THE SCENIC ROUTE TO expo67©

SUGGESTED ROUTES CONNECTING VERMONT WITH MONTREAL

During 1967 Vermont will play host to many visitors traveling to and from Expo 67 at Montreal, Canada, which is only a one-hour drive to Vermont's border.

Leisurely driving in Vermont will reward motorists with the most relaxing scenic routes in the Northeast. The State's excellent network of highways lets visitors choose modern, multi-lane highways, smooth, winding secondary roads, or country lanes. Any of these offer panoramic mountain views, picturesque village scenes and rolling countryside.

East Side: Take I-91 leading to U. S. Rte. 5 north at White River Junction or take Vt. 114. Both connect with Canada Rte. 50, then to Magog, Quebec, and over the Eastern Townships toll highway to Montreal.

West Side: U. S. Rte. 7 leads directly into Montreal or take by-pass at Iberville, Quebec, then over the Eastern Townships toll highway to Montreal.

OR

U. S. Rte. 2 (above Burlington) crossing into Canada at Rouses Point, then Canada Rte. 9 B to St. Jean, Quebec, connecting with Rte. 7 into Montreal, or take by-pass at St. Jean, then over the express highways to Montreal. Other scenic North/South routes in Vermont include Vt. 12, 14, 22A, 30 and 100 and Interstate 91.

NOTE: Interstate 89 currently terminating at Montpelier, the Capital City, connects with U. S. Routes 2 & 7, north of Burlington.

Plan to visit the Vermont Samuel de Champlain Pavilion at Expo 67. It is located on St. Helen's Island, next to the Japanese Pavilion and just a few steps from a convenient subway (Metro) exit. It features a scenic visual show of Vermont's beauty, history and way of life, plus other exhibits including the daily sculpturing of a statue of Champlain from Vermont granite.
