Hi Pam,

I do not know of any survey that has been done since the change in the intersection, and I have done some research on this. Using the "Circle of Stones" as the center (or close) of the road would work. Essentially, the Mountain Top Road continues from the monument straight to the intersection with Dam Road/Chittenden Road.

Thanks for your attention towards this project. I look forward to seeing your new figures.

Best,
Karen

Hi Karen,

Thank you so much. Yes I see the same imagery in my mapping software or in Google maps as is in E911. Unless you can find something showing it's current alignment, for now, we can draw a line directly through where the planter was and bring it perpendicular to Dam Rd.

Thank you,

Pam

Hi Pam,

These maps (attached) from the E911 Viewer Maps might help. To locate them, I entered a search for 275 Chittenden Rd, Chittenden, VT. The E911 mappers may be able to help with distances.

Photo A gives a wider view of the intersection. The upper dot is the Civil War monument. If you look further south and a little to the east of that dot, over the bridge, along Mountain Top Road you will see another dot. That was a planter known as the Circle of Stones. In the reconfiguration of the road, that was eliminated as it became almost the center of the new section of road. In other words, Mountain Top Road continued from the east side of the monument, across the bridge (as before) and straight to the place of the Circle of Stones to join Dam Rd.

Before, the Dam Road/Chittenden Rd intersection started at the southernmost split slip of Mountain Top Road. I would assume that has now moved to the point of the intersection (the former Circle of Stones). Therefore, Chittenden Rd would be a smidgin longer, and Dam Rd would be likewise shorter.

I hope these maps help. I will continue to search for better maps.

Best regards,
Karen

Thanks Karen,

Whatever you could find would be great. Current imagery does not show the change so it is not just the distance that we need but the actual location. It may not make sense to make the change until we have some way of seeing the geometry within our mapping software.

Thank you so much,

Pam

Hi Pam,

I am so glad to hear from you. There was no survey done at the time of the change. The only surveys I know of are the ones on the VTrans maps. I will check to see what I can find beyond that. If this is a case of measuring feet of road, I can certainly do that.

This is an interesting section of road in that three roads are affected: Dam Road, Chittenden Road, and Mountain Top Road, assuming both Chittenden Road and Dam Road intersect with Mountain Top Road.

Best,
Karen

Hi Karen,

I am reaching out to you on the change in one of the Town Roads in Chittenden, TH-4 (Mountain Top Rd) intersection with TH-1 (Dam Rd). We understand what was a Y intersection is now a T intersection. We can work through this with you for the 2023 Mileage Certificate and update the Town Highway Map to reflect the change. We would need a survey plan of the alignment of the new intersection if you have that so we can map it accurately. If you have that and could please send our way, that would be great.

Thank you,

Pam

Good afternoon Karen,

I provided the info to Kerry Alley and Pam DeAndrea, who process the mileage certificates and produce the town highway maps. Either of them will be reaching out regarding this update in Chittenden.

Good morning Brian

Thanks for sending this along and perfect timing, as the mileage certificate process is open right now. Kerry or Pam will reach out to the Town to get any additional info regarding when this project was done and any documentation that we will need for this change. It looks pretty straight forward that the 0.03 miles of TH-23 will go away and TH-4 will be realigned to a "T" intersection. There might be a small adjustment of mileage for TH-4 and Kerry or Pam will be able to get a sense of this change.

We will get this moving forward with the Town and make the necessary updates.

Good morning sir!

Sorry I missed your call yesterday.

The town of Chittenden reached out to me regarding how to change their annual certificate of mileage to reflect a change in an intersection that was made last year. Per the screen shot below, the town removed the 2 throats of the intersection, marked with red lines. They instead created a "T" intersection, as delineated by the blue line:

Can you provide any guidance?
