INVERT RUSTED THRU COMPLETELY

A photograph of a stream with a large, smooth, orange-brown rock in the foreground. The water is dark and reflects the surrounding environment. In the middle ground, a sloth is partially submerged in the water, its long, grey fur and limbs visible. The stream is surrounded by a dense forest floor covered in fallen leaves in various shades of orange, red, and yellow. Several large, grey, textured rocks are scattered along the banks. The overall scene is a natural, somewhat somber depiction of wildlife in its habitat.
