BRIDGE RD

A photograph showing a close-up of a steel truss structure. The structure consists of several interconnected steel beams, some of which are heavily rusted. A dark, rectangular panel is attached to the structure. On this panel, the text "9-00" and "F.B. 1" is handwritten in white. The background shows wooden planks, likely part of a roof or floor structure. A bright light source is visible in the lower right corner, creating a strong glare.
