

A close-up photograph of a metal structure, likely a bridge or industrial framework, showing severe rust and corrosion. The structure consists of several diagonal beams connected by bolts. The metal is heavily pitted and discolored, with a mix of dark brown, orange, and reddish-brown hues. The word "HOLES" is written vertically in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters across the center of the image, highlighting the damage caused by corrosion.

HOLES