

A photograph of a concrete wall, possibly part of a foundation or retaining wall. The wall is made of large, rectangular concrete blocks. There is a large, irregular hole in the wall, roughly in the center. The wall is covered in green moss or algae. At the base of the wall, there is a concrete foundation. To the left of the foundation, there is a pile of rocks and debris. The date "09/22/2020" is printed in orange text at the bottom right of the image.
