

A photograph showing a large, grey concrete structure, possibly a dam or retaining wall, with a prominent horizontal crack running across its upper portion. The structure is situated next to a stream with dark, flowing water. The surrounding area is rocky and covered with fallen leaves and some green moss. In the background, there are trees and dense foliage. The date "08/26/2020" is printed in orange text at the bottom center of the image.

08/26/2020