

A photograph showing a long, rusty metal beam with a series of circular holes, likely for leveling or surveying. The beam is placed on a concrete surface. The background shows some foliage and a wooden structure. A date stamp is visible in the bottom right corner.

09/15/2020