

A photograph of a wooden structure, possibly a gate or a large door, made of vertical wooden planks. The wood is weathered and shows signs of decay, including rot and insect damage. To the left of the main plank, there is a diagonal wooden lattice structure. A small, dark, rectangular object with a red mark is visible on the lattice. A white rectangular sign with a black border is mounted on the right side of the main plank. The sign contains the text "WEIGHT LIMIT 8 TONS" in black capital letters. The background is a bright, overexposed white area.
