Travel Information System

ATTENTION TRAVELERS! Vermont has preserved the natural beauty of its countryside by eliminating all billboards. You will find the following alternative sources of information helpful:

Unmanned Travel Information Plazas (indicated by a T on this map) contain general state information and a state map.

Chambers of Commerce in many communities operate staffed offices or information booths (see listing below).

Interstate Rest Area facilities provide travel literature about specific facilities and general state information. Personnel will assist you to the maximum extent possible. Many individual Vermonters and local CB organizations are happy to assist travelers. Generally, Ch. 9 is monitored for travel information and Ch. 9 for emergency.

To locate specific facilities in rural areas, look for Official Business Directional Signs which include facility name, distance from sign to facility, and direction.

Enjoy your trip!

State Parks and Forests

Vermont has 34 State Forests and 40 State Parks, totaling 160,000 acres. Recreational facilities in both forests and parks are administered by the Division of Parks and Recreation. The Division operates 37 campgrounds containing approximately 2,200 individual campsites and 16 major state beaches with public bathhouses. Approximately 4,000 acres in the State Forests are devoted primarily to skiing and leased to private operators. Some of these ski areas, located at least in part on state forest land, are Stowe, Killington, Burke and Okemo. All forests and parks, except game refuges and where close to human concentrations, are open to hunting from October 15th to May 1st. Many of the forests and parks have hiking and snowmobile trails.

Camping

All campgrounds have a resident ranger, drinking water and flush toilets. An individual campsite includes a level tent space, fireplaces and tables. Most sites will accommodate a travel trailer, but there are no special hookups for utilities in any of the campgrounds. However, most campgrounds have a sanitary station for use by self-contained camper vehicles. Some of the campgrounds have Green Mountain lean-tos, which are roofed shelters located on three sides and fully open on the fourth. They have a 10' x 13' wooden floor about 15 inches above the ground and will accommodate up to five persons. For information regarding camping in Vermont State Parks and Forests, write: Agency of Environmental Conservation, Division of Forests, Parks and Recreation, Montpelier, Vermont 05602, or the individual areas listed at right from May 1 to October 15.

Fish & Game Information

Tired of heavy competition where you fish? Frustrated by over-crowding in your pocket and find you are in someone else's—is that your problem? Then Vermont's great warmwater and coldwater fishing in beautifully rugged, rural country may be your answer. With more than 500 lakes and ponds and some 5,000 miles of fishable streams, it is impossible to overlook a backdrop of lush green mountains. Most of these clear clean waters rush toward Lakes Champlain and Memphremagog or the Connecticut River.

For the warmwater angler — big bass (both largemouth and smallmouth), northern pike often 10 to 15 pounds or up to 30 pounds, walleyes like nowhere else in New England, and panfish going to waste. Coldwater species include a renewed landlocked salmon program in many of the large lakes with brook, brown, rainbow trout, and trophy-size lake trout rounding out the salmonids.

The Vermont Fish & Game Department provides a Guide to Fishing brochure free on request by writing to the Montpelier office's 1 & E Section 05602. A large map in the Guide pegs the species and quality of fishing to be expected in specific areas, answers questions most asked by Vermont fishermen, keys in other services and much more. And for those interested in hunting during the beautiful fall and winter seasons, a detailed companion Guide to Hunting is also available.
