VERMONT A SPECIAL WORLD

Vermont is well-known for its scenic countryside and friendly people. Known as the Green Mountain State, Vermont's rolling hills have a comfortable, relaxed appearance which change to reflect each season. Summer months find a carpet of green foliage covering the hills, while the cool days of fall change leaves to brilliant hues of red, orange and yellow. Winter brings its annual layer of white snow which covers all, and spring ushers in a new season of growth. Whatever your favorite season, Vermont's clear lakes, white-steeped villages and rolling hills provide the ideal setting for countless hours of relaxation and fun for residents and visitors alike.

Vermont holds a very special charm for many who visit because it is one of the smallest and least populous states, and yet it is one of the most beautiful in North America. Visitors actually claim they can feel the difference as they enter Vermont, whose natural beauty has been protected in part by forward-thinking environmental laws designed to preserve the state's scenic countryside.

It is here you'll find a special quality in a friendly land, with friendly people willing to share experiences, provide vacation memories and create a desire to return again.

Beverage Container Deposit Law

In 1973, Vermont enacted legislation against throwaway beer and soda containers. The law mandates a minimum 5-cent deposit on every beer and soda can or bottle sold in the state. There's a deposit on all bottles sold in Vermont whether or not labeled, while all cans must be labeled on the top lid. This legislation has been overwhelmingly successful and roadside litter has been dramatically reduced. Visitors are reminded: please return this refund upon receiving your beverage container. Thank you for your cooperation.

Fish & Game Information

Vermont's great warmwater and coldwater fishing is in beautifully rugged, rural country. With more than 500 lakes and ponds and some 5,000 miles of fishable streams, it is impossible to overlook a backdrop of lush green mountains. Most of these clear clean waters run toward Lakes Champlain and Memphremagog or the Connecticut River.

For the warmwater angler — big bass (both largemouth and smallmouth), northern pike often 10 to 15 pounds or up to 30 pounds, walleyes like nowhere else in New England and panfish going to waste. Coldwater species include a renewed landlocked salmon program in many of the large lakes with brook, lake trout, rainbow trout, and trophy-size lake trout rounding out the salmonids.

State Parks

Vermont has 34 state parks including 35 campgrounds and 45 day use areas. All areas have a resident ranger. Campgrounds offer lean-to and tent sites, and most have flush toilets. Many have a resident naturalist who organizes walks, evening programs and a variety of other activities. Day use areas have beaches with lifeguard supervision, picnic sites and toilet facilities. Many also have snack bars. There are also opportunities for group camping and picnics.

Most areas are open from Memorial Day through Labor Day weekends. Some campgrounds are open earlier or later in the season. Contact the Montpelier office or the individual park for specific hours and dates of operation.

The Department of Forests, Parks and Recreation manages a total of 157,000 acres of forest and park land which offers opportunities for hunting, fishing, cross-country skiing, snowmobiling, hiking and primitive camping. For more information contact: The Department of Forests, Parks and Recreation, Montpelier, Vermont 05602 (828-3375).

Green Mountain National Forest

Vermont also has 290,300 acres managed by the U.S. Forest Service and traversed by 130 miles of the Appalachian and Long Trails. The Lyndonville and Bristol Glades Wildernesses contain 11,000 acres of primitive solitude. Use of off-road recreational vehicles is regulated. Ranger stations are located in Manchester, Green Mountain and Rochester. For additional information write to Forest Supervisor, Green Mountain National Forest, Federal Bldg., 151 West St., Rutland, VT 05701.
